We can make minor changes before the NRB adopts, so that's why the Jan. 4th date is like a drop dead date for us. We need to submit to the NRB on the 4th. Thanks!

The last set of concerns came from legal. I am trying to get a date and time they can join. Is the 4th the absolute last day for submission to the board? Also, if EPA requires minor changes to final rules submitted to us for approval would that restart your process? I will keep working to get the call set up.

Hi Kevin,

Thanks for your note on cancelling the conference call this afternoon on Rule Package 3. We are on a very tight timeline to get this rule package to the January Natural Resources Board meeting. If we miss this meeting our legislature recesses in April and doesn't reconvene until January 2017. Since this rule package is part of the 75 legal issues, we really didn't want to wait another year for adoption. If there is any way to just talk about these issues now, we can still work on them. January 4th is the last day that we can submit the rule package in order to make the January Board meeting. Can we please have the call?

Susan
